

TRAITS ANOTHER ONE

HOUSE OVERRIDES A KANSAS MAN'S PENSION VETO.

DEBATE ON INDIANS

LEADS TO A DISCUSSION OF FOOT-BALL AND MR. SHELLEY.

BIG QUESTIONS IN THE SENATE

TURPIE GETS THROUGH WITH HIS CUBAN SPEECH.

Silver Senators Gave Wolcott and His Bi-metallic Mission-Nicaragua Canal Attacked With Usual Bitterness.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The house overrode another of President Cleveland's pension vetoes today by a vote of 157-32. The bill pensioned Jonathan Scott, of the Sixth Iowa cavalry, who is now living at Oswego, Kan., at the rate of $72 per month. Mr. Cleveland vetoed it on the ground that the disability for which the beneficiary was to be pensioned was not contracted in the service.

The rest of the day was devoted to a continuation of the debate on the Indian appropriation bill. Only a few amendments were adopted, and they were of minor importance. About twenty-five pages of the bill were covered.

A bill to satisfy a peculiar claim was passed, on motion of Mr. Turner (Dem., Ga.). It was the claim of John P. McRae, a deputy United States marshal, for keeping thirty-six African slaves, landed by the ship Wanderer at Savannah, Ga., in 1859, until they could be shipped back to their homes in accordance with the provisions of an act for the suppression of slave traffic. The amount was $462.

Mr. Hitt (Rep., Ill.) chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, reported the diplomatic appropriation bill.

INDIAN EDUCATION. In the course of the discussion about Indian schools, Mr. Murphy of Arizona questioned the good results of the present Indian educational system, so far as it related to those who were returned to their reservations. He declared that every Apache who was educated in the past, and who returned to his reservation, was wearing the same old ragged clothes. He said that upon their return they had been and subjected to the utmost indignity.

Mr. Mahon (Rep., Pa.) warmly defended the work of the Carlisle Indian school. He stated that many of the Indians who came there wearing blankets, after four years of collegiate training, went out into the world and as good citizens as there were in the United States. Mr. Curtis (Rep., Kan.) admitted that as far as Arizona was concerned it was a serious movement to develop the Indians into the world and as good citizens as there were in the United States. Mr. Curtis (Rep., Kan.) admitted that as far as Arizona was concerned it was a serious movement to develop the Indians into the world and as good citizens as there were in the United States.

THE PRINCE OF EDWARD OF THINGS. "Have not the Indians developed great power in football?" asked Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio.

"I believe they have."

And is not football considered in our modern colleges as a part of culture and civilization? (Laughter.)

Mr. Hartman of Montana offered an amendment which produced a howl of laughter, resulting as it did, the recent exposure in connection with the notorious Seelye dinner in New York. It provided for an appropriation of $100,000, $50 for the education and civilization of the Seelye savages of the "Manhattan reservation."

The house greeted the reading of the amendment with a hearty laugh. Mr. Hartman made the motion upon it, and it was ruled out on the point of order that it was "new legislation."

When the subject of the Dawes Indian commission was reached, Mr. Sherman declared that the commission had performed a remarkable work. The commission was taking a census of the Indians, which was almost completed. They had negotiated treaties with the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, and if they were allowed to finish their work it would bring about a condition in the Indian territory of which every American would be proud.

Without contemplating the consideration of the item relating to the commission, the house at 5 p. m. adjourned.

LARGE ISSUES IN THE SENATE

Cuba Recognition, Wolcott's Mission and the Nicaraguan Canal.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The senate had a busy session today. Cuba, the proposed international monetary conference and the Nicaraguan canal, each came in for a share of attention. Mr. Turpie of Indiana closed his speech on the Cuban resolutions, urging that Spain should be allowed to retain the island, and that the United States should intervene.

The Wolcott bill for an international monetary conference was considered for the first time. Mr. Wolcott (Dem., Cal.) proposed an amendment to the bill, which was adopted.

Mr. Cannon (Dem., Ind.) and Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) argued that the conference would be futile and was not intended as a serious movement to develop the Indians into the world and as good citizens as there were in the United States.

It was made evident, however, that the bill would meet little opposition beyond the expression of senators that the bill would accomplish nothing. Mr. Stewart offered an amendment providing that in case the conference failed, the secretary of the treasury should within thirty days begin the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver. No final action on the bill was taken.

The Nicaragua canal debate was resumed. Mr. Daniel speaking against the measure, Mr. Morgan (Rep., N. Y.) offered an amendment designating a committee of five to investigate the canal, and the objections presented by Mr. Morgan.

In presenting a remonstrance against the bill, Mr. Morgan said to designate a committee of five to investigate the canal, and the objections presented by Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Hill (Dem., N. Y.) from the committee of judiciary, made a report on the general question of concurrent and joint resolutions of congress.

The house amendment, the senate bill for a survey of a water route from the mouth of the jettes at Galveston, Tex., to Houston, were agreed to and the bill finally passed.

NAUGHT TO BE DONE

STRANGE NOTE APPEARS IN THE GAMUT OF POPULISM.

RELIEF OF THE CITIZEN, IS SUGGESTED THAT TO REPEAL SOME OF THOSE WHICH OPPOSE OR ARE UTTERLY NUT, MIGHT BE THE BETTER USE OF LEGISLATIVE TIME—MOURIQUAND.

Washington, Jan. 26.—(Special.)—The legislature of Oklahoma today did not prove any more industrious today than it has done during the past two weeks. It met and talked and adjourned, and that was about all. Now it is beginning to dawn upon the people that, after all, there is nothing to be done. The legislature is beginning to look at the matter in that light themselves. One of them said today that outside of the appropriations there was not a single law needed, and that what the legislature ought to do is to go to work industriously repealing the useless laws that now burden the statute book. There are now some three hundred bills before both houses, but in some instances two or three of these bills are on the same subject. There are not more than ten original bills of a general nature before the legislature, and most of these are of a local character and ought not to pass.

The house had a short session this morning and adjourned until tomorrow to give the committee time to examine the bills and report. The senate met at 4 o'clock, at which time they assembled to hear an address from Mrs. Laura M. Johnson on the question of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The house held a two-hour session last night to take up the election of the committee on contested elections. There had been but one case before the committee and that was the case of Fulkerson against the election of the law, while the opposition stood on the intention of the voters and the right to have every American citizen cast his ballot, and to have the election of equal suffrage. After this event the senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

LET'S UP A TRIFLE

BLIZZARD'S GRIP SLOWLY RELAXES IN THE NORTHWEST.

IT IS STILL Intensely Cold, However, Where It Was Cold Before, and in the South the Worst Is Just Now Reached, With Freezing Weather in Florida—Report of the Weather Bureau at Washington—The Storm in the East—Work of Caring for the Destitute—Nebraska's Sympathy for Chicago.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The weather bureau issues the following:

The temperature has risen slowly from the Atlantic coast westward over the Ohio and Upper Mississippi valley, and the northwest. It continues low and has fallen slightly in the southwest and has fallen decidedly on the central gulf and west Florida coasts, where it is below freezing. There has been a little change in temperature in Florida up to 8 o'clock tonight, and as this region is covered with an area of rain it is probable that the cold wave may not extend to the south of Jacksonville with sufficient intensity to cause injury to crops.

Although the temperature may reach freezing in the interior of the extreme northern portion.

The temperature will remain about stationary Wednesday in the Middle Atlantic states, north of Virginia, with a few snows, and it will be below in the central states, with light local snows. The barometer has risen in the St. Lawrence valley and New England and in the southwest, and it has fallen from Florida northwest to Montana. It is lower northeast of New England and higher north of Montana. There is a cold depression in the Gulf of Mexico, which is apparently moving to the north-eastward.

The high winds which have prevailed on the Atlantic coast north of Hatteras, due to the depression in the Gulf of Mexico, have been succeeded by brisk northwesterly winds, which will continue Wednesday, the depression having passed to the eastward of Nova Scotia.

CHICAGO. Chicago, Ills., Jan. 26.—At 9 o'clock this morning the government thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 10 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 11 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 12 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 1 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 2 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 3 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 4 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 5 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 6 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 7 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 8 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 9 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 10 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 11 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 12 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 1 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 2 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 3 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 4 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 5 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 6 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the cold was still as bad as ever. The signal service today reported the cold air extending all over the west and northwest, and no prospect of a material let up in the intensity of the cold for at least two or three days. All trains today were more or less delayed by snowdrifts and inability to make steam. A general complaint was made by the people living in the suburbs. At many of the stations no shelter is afforded the passengers, and many cases of frost bites have occurred.

At 7 o'clock the thermometer showed a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. This is 3 degrees warmer than at the same time yesterday, but there was little comfort derived from that fact, for the